Committee Overview

The Academic Calendar Advisory Committee is responsible for studying and making recommendations regarding the university academic calendar. The committee provides information on calendars of other universities, such as semester length and start/end of classes. The committee reports to the Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Research.

Membership includes undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, staff, deans, chairs, and representatives from key offices, with staggered three-year terms. The committee elects a chair at the beginning of each academic year.
